This article refers to a number of problems related to finding the place where the valves occupy in society, such as social problems, psychological problems related to the desire for self-realization.

"Youth" refers to the younger generation in terms of age. Recently "modern youth" the concept began to be widely used, although, of course, it has always existed, now I hear a lot. What do we understand by "modern youth"? This is a new generation that seeks to identify the social and partial economic situation in the country. Recently, in the era of our grandparents, young people were raised by an older generation, now the opposite is true a trend is observed – young people try to instill their views on society, "are they raising". Sometimes the older generation does not coincide opinions among the younger generation it is not difficult to guess that the result will lead to contradictions. Maybe that's why for, to say a lot of socio-psychological problems in current youth is an exaggeration will not. Socio-psychological problems often occur when a person interacts with society are problems that arise when they are. Human interaction with humans, it depends on its direct psychological state in cooperation and finding its place in society. Social and psychological problems that occur in young people are closely related. These problems really exist and it can be noted that society the higher the level of progress, the more problems it causes. By experts-psychologists, sociologists, educators today great attention is paid to the study of socio-psychological problems of young people. Let us dwell on some of them:

- low salary of a young specialist who does not have work experience;
- lack of affordable housing for young people who are on the verge of independent life;
- difficulties in creating a family; (in particular, the inability to adapt to a new era), surrender due to the slight difficulty encountered in front of them);

- reduction of budget places in higher education institutions every year and the cost of paid education the increase is causing an increase in the feeling of anxiety in young people;
- often there is no agreement with each other, and the sharp confrontation is different the rise of subcultures (in particular the influence of various currents on the consciousness of young people);

Let's take as an example only on the present day of modern youth of Russia what problems do they face? Consider these one of the first problems is a home for independent residence out of parental care place problem. There is no possibility to buy a private house, and there is no desire to live on rent. We know that young people are the lower tier of society. Father mother always has a ham child they do not want to provide, so they are obliged to live independently and look for income. Another one in later problems is about where to study when you finish school they are head mules. Working in a profitable profession without vocational education and higher education is almost can not. Therefore, high school graduates strive to continue their studies and they do not always complete higher education. The main reason for this is the result they expect it is their inability to achieve. One of the next problems is where to relax? Modern youth from school, where does he spend time outside the home and work? This question is very important. Young people are always busy it is important that the splits spend their free time meaningfully. Because "doing nothing" under can be anything from bullying to murder. A lot of time for young people cancellations lead to drunkenness, drug abuse, bullying, quarrels, and other crimes. Creation of comfortable recreation centers so that young people can make their empty vaccinations meaningful need: clubs, discos, sports and cultural centers, cinemas. Another problem next is finding a job that will become the main source of income. In some gods of Russia, it is easier to find a job in many places, but in the suburbs and in their gods, it is somehow more difficult for young people to find a job. The main ones of modern youth the goal is to improve towards a better job and career. Knowledge for this and they don't always realize that it's important to have a experience. Since another next problem was the 21st century era of technology, they are ready-made templates those who are used to doing business on the basis of. That is, if an extra-template problem occurs, to various unpleasant situations when they are depressed and sometimes unable to get out of depression there is no hope. In place of the conclusion, it should be said that it worries modern youth the problems are diverse. Today's young people are much more than their peers in the 60s and 70s appears to be large. The reason is as we mentioned above our young people ready templates on the basis of which they get used to the fact that they form skills to live. Great on Intelligent Science and science our students who are making progress are also a trap in the whirlwind of relations together with this there are not even those who have gone astray. Perhaps this is because of resentment is the problem. Here we mean not only physical, but also social frustration hold on. We believe that our young people in the future will face the problems listed above they do and share their experiences with the future generation.
